"There are lots of advantages to using a Mac, most of which Mac users already know about. They're better built, better designed. They last longer. They rarely fall prey to viruses.

But perhaps the biggest advantage is one that's rarely acknowledged: You get to join a highly creative, knowledgeable and supportive community."

What is CapMac?

Capitol Macintosh is a non-profit organization formed in July of 1993 by Austin Macintosh professionals and enthusiasts to help fellow Mac users get more enjoyment and productivity from their Macintosh computers. Put simply, CapMac is friends helping friends learn about their Macs and how to use them.

Our History and Membership

The original 7 founders of Capitol Macintosh ranged from college students to a retiree and his teenage son. Membership numbers have changed over the years but the diversity remains. Our membership spans all ages and computer skill levels. We strive to make sure CapMac offers benefits to power users and novices alike and, of course, to everyone in between.

Monthly General Meetings

The General Meeting is our monthly focal point where we meet to discuss what's new in the world of Macintosh, share questions and answers among our membership, and enjoy a feature presentation. There are always plenty of other exciting events, including the monthly raffle for cool prizes.

Our monthly meetings include a feature presentation, often by prominent software and hardware vendors or Macintosh experts like Bob LeVitus. Monthly presenters have included Aspyr, Microsoft, Adobe, Dantz Development, and of course, Apple Computer! Topics range from vital concerns like keeping your Mac healthy and how to back up your Mac to getting the most from iTunes and iPhoto.

General Meetings are held the second Thursday evening of each month from 7:00 – 9:00 PM in Room 3.106 of the Pharmacy Building on the UT campus in an auditorium-style classroom with internet access – bring your portable Mac! Visitors are always welcome! Ample parking is available just two blocks away in a UT parking garage. Information about the monthly presentation as well as directions and parking instructions are always available on our web site, www.capmac.org.

Special Interest Groups (SIGs)

Our special interest groups allow members to focus on specific topics of interest in a smaller setting to provide personalized assistance and friendly collaboration. Our current active special interest groups include Beginners and Switchers, FileMaker Pro, Final Cut Pro, Programmers, and Web Developers. Whether you are an expert or novice you'll enjoy learning and sharing your interests at our SIG gatherings.
